

DEMOCRATS BIG RALLY

Barksdale, Lamb, Kelley, Folkes and Sam Stern Speak.

SUPPER IN TONEY'S HALL

Wedding—Miss Gregory to marry Mr. Pettigrew. Personals.

Manchester, Bureau, Times-Dispatch. No. 102, 103 and 104. In the meeting last night of the Virginia Parker-Davis-Lamb Club of Manchester, there was present a large and enthusiastic crowd. The meeting was held in the courthouse, where the speakers assembled at 8:30.

A preliminary meeting was held at Toney's Hall, where after a few minutes of conversation, introductions and handshakes, the club and the speakers formed in columns, two abreast, and marched down to the courthouse.

Mr. White, president of the club, gave way to Mr. D. L. Toney, who presided and after a few brief remarks introduced the speakers. In a few glowing terms, Senator Barksdale was presented as the first speaker of the occasion.

The popular senator said that he appreciated an invitation to speak before the citizens of Manchester and paid a high compliment to his esteemed friend, Mr. Toney. Mr. Barksdale said in part that the issues of the present campaign depended not only on questions of tariff and other reforms, but also in the fundamental principles of Democracy.

A Blameless Life.

In a closing tribute to the Democratic candidate he said that the Republicans could point to no instance of a man's life with the voice of condemnation.

The next to speak was the "Old War Horse," Hon. John Lamb. The main issue touched upon by the Congressman was the tariff and trust questions. He said that the Dingley bill crushed out the tariff, and that the consequent prosperity attributed to it by the Republicans had been in spite of it and not by reason of it. He said that the prosperity was due to the basic money accumulated in the United States Treasury and not through any institutions of the Republic. He then referred to the two Presidential candidates, saying that one represented the Hamiltonian school of politics, the other the Jeffersonian school; one to peace, the other to war; one represented independence of thought and action, the other to servility of mind and body.

Roosevelt the Issue.

Hon. Edmund Kelley came third. He said that Roosevelt himself was the issue in the campaign. The Republicans claimed that the Democrats had no issues. Mr. Kelley said that if that were true there would still be the issue of the two rival Presidential candidates. If Parker were elected, the Chief Executive would be only the choice of the people but would be the executor of the wishes of the people by whom he was elected.

The last but not least to appear was Mr. Samuel Stern, of Richmond, "Mayor of Jefferson." Mr. Stern, referring to the assembled crowd and the fact that there was blood and where there was blood there was life. Following up an illustration which he used for a point in his argument, he concluded by an earnest wish "that the Republican party would go to hell." His remarks were greeted with close, signified the hearty approval of his hearers.

After the speeches the crowd adjourned to Toney's Hall, where an abundance of oysters, beef, cheese and ham sandwiches and light beverages were served.

REPUBLICAN INUENDO.

Insinuations as to Rivals.

An unsigned circular has just been distributed in the interest of Mr. Edgar Allan, Jr., one of the rival Republican congressional aspirants in this district, which is more remarkable for what it does not say than for anything said. It insinuates much, but actually charges nothing. It characterizes S. B. Johnson, the colored aspirant for the nomination of the rival faction as "the tool of certain persons," and charges that he is "a tool of the Federal official," and names several persons alleged to have been present, concluding with "a gentleman who should be, if he is not, out of politics." Proceeding to the "chastest of reads," Johnson will not run, but will be found working and stumping for the Federal official candidate.
